West (PA) Meets East: Family Medicine Collaboration in Japan

The DFM has been collaborating with an 1150-bed teaching hospital – Aso-Iizuka Hospital – in Fukuoka Prefecture in Japan since 2006. Working with the Department of General Internal Medicine there, the department has helped create a Family Medicine residency, design a new Family Medicine Health Center within a newly built primary care-oriented facility – Kaita Hospital, and are now assisting in the launch of a nursing collaboration with AIH and its hospital-based nursing school. We have spoken at medical schools throughout this region of Japan and at medical recruiting conferences to increase the awareness of the contributions Family Medicine makes to the health of individuals, families, and communities.

Several visits have included specialists as well as family physicians spotlighting the benefits of team-oriented care. Below is a traditional tea ceremony that was part of the festivities celebrating the opening of the new North Tower of Aso-Iizuka Hospital. Dr. Tiffany Musick, a Family Medicine trained hospitalist at UPMC East and member of the team, along with Cheryl Brill, VP, Clinical Operations – ICSD, and Ann Mitchell, PhD, RN, Pitt School of Nursing, comprised the team visiting Iizuka in January, 2013.

Japanese faculty are coming to Pittsburgh in November for a faculty development course and chief residents in February for a chief resident administrative skills course.

Dr. Robin Maier Leads New Longitudinal Project at School of Medicine

A new program called the Longitudinal Alliance Project will pair first-year medical students with moderately complex patients whom they will follow throughout medical school. By experiencing the complex health care system from the patient’s and family’s point of view, students will appreciate the symmetries and asymmetries in physician-patient relationships and may be able to identify and help bridge gaps in care, miscommunications and systemic problems with our current system.

Dr. Robin Maier, Director of Medical Student Education for the Department, is developing and championing this program. “We are very excited about this opportunity for the Family Medicine Department to lead in this emerging project which will allow students to share in our love for longstanding patient relationships,” Maier says.

A small pilot group of first-year medical students will begin the project later this fall; eventually all students will participate. Maier is collaborating with many throughout the medical school community to recruit patients and faculty mentors and to integrate the student-patient alliances into existing curriculum.

Keep us in mind if you have a patient who could use an advocate or student-ally who could be present at physician appointments, help communicate with family, or just walk along with the patient through a difficult medical experience. Family Medicine is proud to be a part of this exciting project.
Medical Student Corner: FMIG/RMIG Spring Activities

Accompanied by Dr. Robin Maier and education coordinator Patti Zahnhausen, the family and rural medicine interest groups organized a spring service in April. Focusing on underserved and rural populations, the 1st and 2nd year students conducted health screenings at an assisted living facility, a food bank, an indoor flea market, and at a community race in Cecil, PA. Their efforts were so successful that they were invited to provide health screenings at the Man Up for Prostate Cancer Father’s Day 5K/10K Run/Walk in Pittsburgh. The volunteers won the award for the group with the most participants!

Match Day
The University of Pittsburgh matched 4 talented students into family medicine residency programs this year. Congratulations to Byron Doepker – Group Health Cooperative, Seattle WA; Michelle Garcia – Maine-Dartmouth Family Medicine, Augusta ME; Russell Spingarn – University of Minn Med Sch/N Memorial, Minneapolis MN; and Diana Tucci – O’Connor Hospital, San Jose CA
